

Attachment 1

Categories of Rector's Awards for Outstanding Scientific Achievements and Artistic Outcomes

	Name of the award	Description	Auxiliary evaluation criteria
I.	Publication with an extremely rapid positive response from the scientific community	Award for publications that have an extraordinary response very soon after publication.	Possible metrics: 'hot paper' according to WoS database (0.1% of the most cited publications in the field in the first two months after release). More here¹. Other criteria: The first or corresponding author must be from the BUT (in fields where it is customary to list the authors alphabetically, it is not necessary to comply with this condition, but it is necessary to indicate the contribution of individual domestic members of the author's collective in the creation of the result) Originality, extraordinary impact on the scientific community and exceptionality of the result
II.	Publications with an extraordinary impact on the scientific community	Award for publications, which have achieved extraordinary citation acclaim (among the 1% of most cited publications a given field for a given year and for a given type of publication).	Possible metrics: 'highly cited paper' according to WoS (1% of the most cited publications in a given field for a year a given publication type). More here². Other criteria: The first or corresponding author must be from the BUT (in fields where it is customary to list the authors alphabetically, it is not necessary to comply with this condition, but it is necessary to indicate the contribution of individual domestic members of the author's collective in the creation of the result) Originality, extraordinary impact on the scientific community and exceptionality of the result

¹ https://images.webofknowledge.com/images/help/WOS/hp_hot_papers.html

² https://images.webofknowledge.com/images/help/WOS/hs_citation_applications.html

III.	Publications with outstanding contribution of the BUT team to the scientific community	Award for publications with a high citation rate, that were primarily created at BUT.	Possible metrics: CNCI (normalized category index) ≥ 3 - i.e., that the publication is cited at least 3 times more than the average publication of the same kind published in the same year and in the same field Other criteria: The first and corresponding author and at least half of the authors are or were employees or students of the BUT and state affiliation to the BUT. The result has been largely achieved at university workplaces and facilities. Originality, extraordinary impact on the scientific community and the uniqueness of the result.
IV.	Extraordinary applied result	Award for a significant applied result (e.g. a patent with a licence, a spin-off or start-up).	Possible metrics: Financial contribution for BUT Other criteria: Exceptional contribution of the applied result for the society
V.	Extraordinary conference paper	Award for a conference paper with a major impact on the scientific community.	Possible metrics: Importance of the conference (e.g. CORE database, Google Scholar H5), above average citation rate Other criteria: International conference, extraordinary impact to the scientific community
VI.	An extraordinary work of art	Awards for significant works of art.	Metrics: RUV points; significant placements in competitions, especially international; prize for extraordinary artistic creation Other criteria: Extraordinary impact (not only) on the artistic community, social impact
VII.	Extraordinary architectural work	Awards for significant architectural works.	Metrics: RUV points; significant placements in competitions, especially international; architecture awards; acclaim in professional media Other criteria: Extraordinary social impact

VIII.	Result with extraordinary media coverage	Awards for results with significant media acclaim.	Metrics: Altmetrics, Plumx metrics Other criteria: Exceptional social impact, visibility in the media, contribution to the popularization of science and research, architecture and art
IX.	Book publication with an extraordinary response	Awards for scientific books.	Metrics: Citations Other criteria: Extraordinary social impact, outstanding contribution to the field
X.	An extraordinary result of research or other creative activity.	Awards for significant achievements not covered by other awards.	Criteria: Outstanding societal impact of the result, outstanding contribution to science/art